Living and Non-Living Garden Sort

Answers and adult support.

Living things

Bird, flower and worm. These are organisms. They carry out life processes, although not all are visible at one moment.

Non-living things

Rock, pencil and bucket. These do not grow, feed, breathe or reproduce. A non-living thing can still move when pushed or carried.

Explain with care

Accept a clear reason based on a life process, such as grows or needs resources. Avoid using movement alone: plants are living even though they do not walk, and a toy can move without being alive.
